Causes the Death of Eight People in Chicago

HOTTEST DAY OF YEAR

Forty Dogs are Killed in the Suburbs Owing to Mad Dog Scare

Public Parks in New York May be Thrown Open for People to Sleep in.

Chicago, June 23.—The heat wave continues intense today. Up to noon there have been eight deaths and 30 prostrations today.

Chicago, June 23.—The hottest day of the year brought death and suffering to Chicago. Eight deaths were reported to the coroner and heat prostrations were numerous. In addition a mad dog scare spread through the city and the chief of police ordered his men to shoot all unmuzzled dogs. A similar order issued in Morton Park resulted in the killing of 40 canines in a few hours.

DEATHS DUE TO HEAT.

Frank Case, overcome while working in his garden.

Samuel Douglas, negro, made dizzy by heat and fell off yacht into Jackson Park lagoon; drowned before aid could reach him.

John Golden, drowned in Desplaines river while seeking relief from heat.

William Hobson, 55 years old, dropped dead of heart disease superinduced by heat.

Baby Gunther, two weeks old, died at county hospital of heat prostration.

Sarah Oskmos, nine years old, died at Presbyterian hospital after heat prostration.

Estell Wylie, 13 days old, died at county hospital of heat prostration. The number of prostrations reported to the police totaled several scores.

Wm. Detling, negro, crazed by heat and committed suicide by drinking Paris green.

The mad dog scare was due to the unusual number of attacks on persons by vicious canines within the last few days. Thus far none of those bitten have developed symptoms of rabies, but all are being watched by the health department officers.

The thermometer reached 94 degrees at 5 p. m. According to the local weather bureau, only one other city, El Paso, Texas, showed a higher temperature during the day, 96 degrees being reported there.

New York, June 23.—A severe heat wave, which has enveloped the Eastern states for three days, prostrated

UNREASONABLY HIGH BIDS FOR WATER WORKS CONSTRUCTION

Was There Combine Entered Into Against the City? If So, It Will Fail, for the Board of Service Will Reject All Bids.

Saturday afternoon the Board of Public Service opened bids for the furnishing and laying of the pipe line extension to the municipal water works system, as provided for under the appropriation ordinance by the City Council.

There were three bids for the furnishing of 1,100 tons of cast iron pipe and the lowest bid was $21.59 per ton, made by the J. B. Clow company of Chicago. There were two opposition bidders but the Clow firm being the lowest at a price that was satisfactory to the board were awarded the contract.

For construction work, that is the trenching, pipe laying and back filling, five firms competed on 60,000 lineal feet of sixteen inch pipe, 24,900 feet of eight inch pipe and 775 feet of sixteen inch pipe. The firms and their bids were as follows:

T. C. Brooks & Sons of Jackson, Mich., laying of six inch pipe, etc., 32 cents per lineal foot; on eight inch pipe, 37 cents, and on sixteen inch pipe, 57 cents, or a total of $29,046.75.

The Wm. Tunney company of Joliet, Ill., bid 22, 28 1-2 and 64 cents respectively on the six, eight and sixteen inch pipe, or a total of $30,089.50.

M. O'Herron & Co. of Pittsburg, Pa., bid 36, 38 and 70 cents respectively on the six, eight and sixteen inch pipe, or a total of $31,820.50.

Stone Construction company, of Lima, 33, 39 and 70 cents respectively for the six, eight and sixteen inch pipe, or a total of $30,174.

American Light and Water Co., of Kansas City, 32 1-2, 38 and 60 cents respectively for the six, eight and sixteen inch pipe, or a total of $29,622.

over a score of persons in and about New York. No relief is promised for two days by the weather bureau and hospitals are preparing to handle any number of heat cases today. All New York and its environs sweated last night. There was little reduction in the temperature, which reached a maximum of 86 degrees at the weather bureau.

Should the heat continue the public parks will be thrown open to all who wish to sleep on the lawns.

BLOODIEST MASSACRE OF THE CENTURY OCCURRED TODAY

OF THE CENTURY OCCURRED TODAY

Berlin, June 23.—A dispatch from Teheran, Persia, says:

"Eight hundred persons, men, women and children, publicans and soldiers, were killed here today in the bloodiest massacre of the century. Rioters surge through the streets and Madened by the sight of blood the troops and citizens mingled in indiscriminate butchery. Women and children were not spared. The bodies of the dead in many cases were mutilated beyond recognition. Limbs were chopped off, eyes gouged out and noses and tongues slashed from the dead bodies. Even the dead bodies of women were not spared, and indescribable outrages occurred on every hand. Eighteen reform leaders were dragged before the Shah and without even the formality of trial were condemned to death. Before the order could be executed the mob seized the men and they were literally cut to pieces with sabers and daggers.

The outbreak of today had been threatened for several days, and was precipitated by an attack made on the house of parliament by a company of Cossack soldiers, presumably acting on orders from the Russian government, which had been trying by peaceful means to check the widespread disorders of the empire. The Shah's only support now is his weak kneed cabinet and his soldiery. The assembly has cut loose from him.

The ultimate overthrow of the Shah is believed to be the only possible result of today's butchery.

Constantinople, June 23.—The Persian town of Urmia was visited by bands of Kurds and unpaid Turkish soldiers today, who attacked the mosques where many of the populace took refuge and after firing the buildings, threw many of those who resisted into the flames.

Mr. Sherman is not in danger. His temperature has almost returned to normal. Mrs. Sherman and son Richard, will arrive in Cleveland at 5 40 p. m. They will remain close to Mr. Sherman's side. Doctors and myself believe that he will be out of the hospital the day after tomorrow, unless some further complications should arise.

The following telegram was received by Congressman Sherman at Lakeside Hospital this afternoon:

"I am greatly distressed to hear of your illness. I hope Governor Herrick will keep me advised of your restoration to health which I earnestly pray may be rapid."

WM. H. TAFT."

WEDDING

Was Great Event of London Social Season

DAZZLING SPLENDOR

Attended Ceremonies of Ward-Reid Nuptials in London

Bride, Daughter of American Ambassador to Great Britain, Groom, the Royal Equerry.

London, June 23.—The marriage of Miss Jean Reid, daughter of White-law Reid, American ambassador to Great Britain, to the Hon. John Hubert Ward, took place at the Chapel Royal, St. James palace, this afternoon. The wedding was the great event of the London social season.

Not since the prince of Wales was married has a wedding ceremony taken place in circumstances of such pomp and majesty.

The guests present were comparatively few. The Chapel Royal, a private chapel attached to St. James palace holds only about 120 persons. But the 120 were made up of the king and queen and other royalties, the flower of the British nobility, and the nearest friends and relatives of the Reid family.

As the bride entered the church the sunlight lit up the old stained glass windows and gleamed on the rich oak carving which dates from Henry VIII. The king was in his pew, surrounded by his family. The fairest women of two continents were waiting expectant in choicest raiment; the ambassadorial corps was there in diplomatic regalia, and army and navy officers in their bright uniforms, contrasting with the sober black of the other men.

All heads were turned toward the door as Miss Reid, smiling radiantly, entered on the arm of her father. At the door they were met by the officiating clergy and the choir, the latter picturesque in their quaint uniforms and surplices, dating back to the 16th century. The officiating clergy were the Rev. Shepard, dean of the Chapel of three yards. It was made of the same material as the dress and was bordered with orange blossoms and roses.

The pages were the Hon. Roderick Ward, son of Lord Dudley, the Hon. Nigel Glynn, the Hon. Marien Glynn, children of Lord Glynn. Master Robert Shaw, Miss Margaret Ward, niece of the bridegroom, and Miss James. They wore no hats, but had wreaths of flowers around their heads. The girls wore white frocks and the boys white page suits, and both had blue sashes. The only bridesmaid was Miss Jennie Crocker, cousin of the bride, and sister of Mrs. Burton Harrison. Her dress was of white embroidered muslin, with a blue sash, and her hat was trimmed with white roses.

The Hon. John Hubert Ward, wearing morning dress, awaited his bride at the altar. Mr. Ward is the closest friend of King Edward and is also the royal equerry. He is one of five brothers, the oldest of whom is the Earl of Dudley, late lord lieutenant of Ireland, and recently appointed governor general of Australia. His groomsmen was Col. Holford, also an equerry to the king.

The ushers in the church were the three brothers of the bridegroom: Robert, Cyril and Gerard; Ogden Reid, brother of the bride; Craig Wadsworth, second secretary to the American embassy. Grant Smith, third secretary, and Shelton Whitehouse, private secretary to the ambassador.

The guests included the king and queen, the prince and princess of Wales, and a party of royalty which the king himself invited to join him in the church; Mr. and Mrs. D. Ogden Mills, the bride's grandparents; Mrs. Jas. L. Harriman, Mrs. J. E. D. Lanier and Miss Bishop, sisters of Mrs. Reid; Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie, the Hon. John and Mrs. Ridgely Carter and the entire diplomatic corps. Mr. Pierpont Morgan was invited, but could not be present on account of the event.

The chief relatives of the bridegroom present were the Dowager Lady Dudley, his mother, Lord and Lady Dudley, the wives of his three other brothers, Lady Evelyn, Mary and Cicely Ward.

The actual wedding service was short. Only two hymns were sung, and these by the choir, one of the finest in England. Many remarked that the bride and groom made the finest looking couple seen in London in a long time. The bride looked tall and queenly and Mr. Ward, with his more than six feet of athletic physique, is accounted one of the handsomest men in town.

ROOSEVELT WILL ROOT FOR HARVARD IN BOAT RACE

Oyster Bay, June 23.—President Roosevelt is going to New London in an effort to help root the sons of John Harvard on to victory in the annual races to be rowed over the Thames on Thursday. His decision was reached today after he had observed the tremendous boost that Yale stock has taken as a result of the presence of Presidential Candidate Taft at New Haven. President Roosevelt and his entire family will leave tomorrow afternoon for New London on the yacht May Flower.

SPACH

ARRESTED AT NEW PHILADELPHIA CHARGED WITH THE CRIME OF MURDER.

Wounded Man is Taken to the Union Hospital and Suffer Relapse— Will Probably Die.

New Philadelphia, O., June 23.—Chas. Spach, found desperately wounded last Friday night, a short distance from where the dead body of Miss Arline Knisely, 19, his companion on a ride, was huddled in a buggy shot to death, is under arrest here, charged with firing the shots which caused the tragedy. Sheriff Marlow arrested Spach at his home and Tuesday took the desperately wounded and unconscious prisoner from the care of Mrs. Spach to the Union Hospital between New Philadelphia and Canal Dover. Spach suffered a relapse Monday evening and will probably die.

Following the disclosures the farmers of the vicinity armed themselves with rifles and shotguns and pistols and started on a systematic hunt after every negro of known bad tendencies. At the same time pistols and other weapons began to be seen in the hands of negroes and the county peace officers found they were powerless to cope with the situation.

Hurried appeals were made to the governor and a squad of rangers were ordered to the scene.

The Houston Light Guards of this city were instructed to hold themselves in readiness to take a special train and left last night.

This was the situation when the news went broadcast that Aaron Johnson, another white farmer, had been shot down while sitting on his gallery with his wife and boy and baby. His brains and blood spattered over them.

His wife, crazed at the desperate act of the negroes, gave chase, screaming with all her might.

White men, raiding the country side for negroes, heard her. When they reached her she was sitting beside the body of her husband insane.

It was then that the white avengers went forth, and soon the crack of their pistols told that death had been visited on some one. Later the bodies of Singleton, Evans and Thomas were found.

Already charged with having a hand in the death of Dean, the three negroes met swearing vengeance when they encountered the white men. Johnson's death increased the tenacity of the situation. The three dead negroes were known to be pals of a fourth.

The latter, Perry Price, would surely have met the fate of his fellows, had not officers captured and spirited him to San Augustine.

He confessed that he had been given $5 by Robert Wright, Johnson's brother-in-law, to kill Johnson.

Wright was then arrested and is now in jail at Centre, Texas. The jail is guarded heavily, as the rumor has gone abroad that a mob of white men have captured a Houston east and west train and is forcing the engineers to run to Centre in order that they may take Wright and hang him.

MAN FOUND MURDERED.

Wheeling, W. Va., June 23.—Edw. Farley, a well known citizen of Greengsville, near here, who has been missing several days, was found in a creek. His throat was cut and his head horribly mutilated. There is no clue to the murder.

Royal, and Dr. Wm. B. Grosvenor, rector of the Church of the incarnation in New York, which Miss Reid attends.

The bride was dressed in a gown of soft, filmy white satin, cut in empire fashion with high waist. From the waist down ran panels of finest old rose point lace, which belonged to her grandmother Mrs. D. Ogden Mills and which was a gift from her.

Little sprays of tiny roses and orange blossoms were clustered here and there on the dress and gave a picturesque effect to the whole. The bride's veil of old rose point lace, matching that of the dress, was caught to the hair with orange blossoms. The gown, like the rest of the trousseau, came from Paris.

White Man Shot Down in Presence of Wife and Son

State Rangers Called Upon to Assist in Putting Stop to Desperate Man Hunt.

Houston, Texas, June 23.—Nine negroes and two whites are dead, a race riot is in progress between armed whites and blacks, the state rangers and militia have been called out and the whole of Eastern Texas is seething in the throes of hatred against the negro as the result of the murder of two white men near Hemphill.

At midnight Sunday 150 armed men marched to the jail at Hemphill, and, after overpowering the jailer and guards, took out six negroes and hung them.

They had been jailed charged with complicity in the murder of Hugh A. Dean, a white farmer.

Yesterday afternoon Burgha Singleton, Hardie Evans and Henry Thomas, negroes, were found dead on the roadside between Hemphill and Geneva, their bodies riddled with bullets. They, too, were alleged to have had a hand in the plot to kill Dean.

Following the disclosures the farmers of the vicinity armed themselves with rifles and shotguns and pistols and started on a systematic hunt after every negro of known bad tendencies.

At the same time pistols and other weapons began to be seen in the hands of negroes and the county peace officers found they were powerless to cope with the situation.

MUSIC

IRRITATING TO ATTORNEY STASEL WHO SEEKS TO ENJOIN MUSICIANS.

Children Neglected by Parents Sent to Girls' Industrial School—Applicants for License, Etc.

Albert A. Stasel, the well known attorney, is exceedingly fond of music, but registers a kick when it becomes too monotonous. Now, Al's office is directly across the street from a place of amusement, and it furnishes music to the public gratis. Some of the people who hear the music are delighted, and linger around the doors for hours at a time to hear it. Not so with Mr. Stasel. He says the weather is pretty warm now, but insists that he has been unable to intelligently transact business for some time on account of the discordant noises that fill the atmosphere in the vicinity. Al says he can stand the noise no longer, and has filed a petition in the Common Pleas court to enjoin John Kaiser and Mrs. Sarah Coffman from operating the music.

Sent to Home.

A petition was filed in the Juvenile branch of the Probate court against Fred Paxton and Mabel Paxton, charging them with neglecting their minor children, Goldie, aged 13; Edith M., 11; Helen L., 10, and Eva L., 6. The hearing of the case was had and the testimony developed that the husband had deserted the family over a month ago and that he had not contributed to the support of the family; that he owes for one year's rent and a grocery bill amounting to over $300, and that the mother was unable to support them. The court ordered the children taken to the Girls' Industrial Home at Delaware, and Mrs. Swan, the probation officer, and the mother of the girls, took them over Tuesday.

Denied Marriage License.

An exceedingly touching incident in which two good looking, well bred, youthful lovers figured, occurred in the Probate court Tuesday. The lovers who were evidently very much attached to each other, were before the Probate court and asked for a marriage license. Both were attired in their bridal garments, and each wore a handsome boutonniere of roses. When the marriage license clerk asked the young man how old the young lady was he replied "Fifteen." And right at this point is where the license clerk stopped work. "Too young," she said, and closed the big book. The young people were very much surprised and it required considerable explanation to satisfy them that they could not obtain a marriage license. They left the room very much disappointed, but will probably find a way out of the difficulty.

Windup of Common Pleas.

A busy term of Common Pleas court is coming to an end. The court announced that there would be no active business after this week. A large number of civil and criminal cases have been disposed of. The court following its usual custom, will adjourn the first of July. Sales will be confirmed sometime about the middle of July, after which an adjournment will be taken until September.

In the assignment and trial of cases, the Court will commence, next term, where it left off on the docket this term. The rule as to the filing of pleadings and making up the issues will be enforced, strictly; and attorneys are called upon to get their pleadings filed on time.

Common Pleas Court.

The case of State of Ohio, ex rel. Bertha Pulk vs. Stanley Eichelberger, a paternity case, resulted in a verdict finding defendant guilty. Fitzgibbon; Smythe & Smythe.

State of Ohio ex rel. Agnes Huston vs. Wm. Jennings; a paternity case; on trial to court and jury. Jones & Jones, James; Russell & Horner.

The following peace warrant cases were dismissed for want of prosecution: Ohio vs. Charles W. Emsweller, John McLaughlin, Melville Hayes, Frances Emsweller, Frank Laird, Eddie Rouse, Johnna Fitzgerald, John Parker, Joseph Busch, Mike Zupathy. In the case of State vs. A. A. Taylor, tried in the Probate court the early part of this month, in which the Doctor was prosecuted for using the word Doctor in connection with advertising his profession, a bill of exceptions has been prepared for filing in the Probate court, embodying all the evidence and the rulings of the court, with the exceptions of defendant's counsel. The matter will come up for hearing in the Common Pleas court.

Real Estate Transfers.

Joshua G. Stamp and wife to Virgil H. Sanders and Clara B. Sanders, real estate in Newark, $200. Arthur Morris to E. T. Bricker, in lot 263 in the Talmadge addition to Newark, $1 and other consideration. Chas. T. Pramer and wife to Lewis Evans, real estate in Granville township, $1 and other consideration.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORS.

A number of Newark people representing the various churches here, left this afternoon for Mansfield to attend the Christian Endeavor convention now in session in that city. The convention begins this evening and will continue until Friday.

The program is a most interesting one and a special feature at this session is the fact that Prof. Rexell, the famous musical composer, will be the leader of the singing. Among the representatives from Newark were Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Long, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Lippincott, Miss Ada Simms, Miss Edith Smith, Miss Pauline Smith, Miss May Lamp, J. D. Jenkins, J. M. Keckley, R. D. Boyd, James Cunninghamham.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BURKHARDT. The funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Sarah Burkhardt who died at the Methodist Home for the Aged at College Hill, Cincinnati, were held at the Second Methodist church in the East End on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

MITCHELL DECLINES TO RUN.

Chicago, June 23—In a statement today John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America, declined to run for nomination for governor of Illinois. He also stated that he would not be a candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket. Poor health is given as the cause.

SUICIDE AN OHIO MAN.

Canton, June 23—Charles Lyons, who was found dead at New Castle, Pa., committing suicide by drinking laudanum, was a son of Mrs. Fannie Lyons of this city. It is stated that Lyons, who was a railway conductor, became despondent when out of work.

DANCING TEACHERS CONVENT.

Toledo, June 23—Two hundred men and women from all parts of the United States and Canada are here in attendance at the annual convention of the United Professional Teachers of Dancing of America. The convention will continue during the week.

ONE TO PEN; OTHER INSANE.

Charlton, June 23—Otto Pakkala was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary and Matt Hill was declared by a special grand jury with the slaying of John Kaura near Butron, in February. Kaura was struck on the head with an ax.

INSANE FARMER A SUICIDE.

Cadiz, June 23—Samuel Porter, a well known farmer residing several miles west of Cadiz, took his life yesterday by hanging himself to the head of his bed with a large handkerchief. He was temporarily insane.

KILLS HIMSELF BY ACCIDENT.

Lorain, June 23—Walter Bray, 19, accidentally shot himself through the heart, causing instant death yesterday afternoon while squirrel hunting.

NEWARK ARCADE

Howell & Thomas Complete Plans and Specifications for Proposed 400 Foot Building.

Howell & Thomas, the architects, with offices in the Columbus Savings and Trust building, have completed the plans for the Arcade which the Arcade Realty company of Newark will erect in that city. It will be over 400 feet long with a frontage of nearly 75 feet on Third street and 62 feet on Fourth street. The Third street end will be three stories high, the Fourth street end two stories in height. It will contain over 30 store rooms.

The roof will be of glass and composition and the finish of the interior will be of oak. A tile floor will be used and the building will be up to date in every particular. The Arcade building will be of reinforced concrete and brick and work on it will begin soon after the first of the month.—Ohio State Journal.

Announcement is made that contractors are now figuring on the work and that bids are to be received by the Arcade Realty company on June 26th.

How to Rid Furniture of Moths.

A sort of trade secret among upholsterers, it is said, is this recipe for ridding furniture of moths, says the Kansas City Star. A set of furniture that seemed to be alive with larvae and from which hundreds of these pests had been picked and brushed was set in a room by itself. Three gallons of benzine were purchased. Using a small watering pot with a fine rose sprinkler, the whole upholstery was saturated through and through with the benzine. Result, every moth, larva and egg was killed. The benzine dried out in a few hours, and its entire odor disappeared in three or four days. Not the slightest harm happened to the varnish or wood or fabrics or hair stuffing. The carpets were also well sprinkled all around the sides of the room with equally good effect. For furs, flannels—indeed, all woolen articles containing moths—benzine is most valuable. Put them in a box, sprinkle with benzine, close the box tightly, and in a day or two the pests will be exterminated, and the benzine will all evaporate on opening. In using benzine great care should be taken that no fire is near by, as the stuff in fluid or vapor form is very inflammable.

How to Improve a Narrow Hall.

To improve the appearance of a very narrow hall place large mirrors on both sides. This gives a very good effect. A large mirror, one the length of the wall, if placed opposite the landing of a half curved staircase will add wonderfully to the appearance of the narrow hall and make a wide one more handsome. Avoid striped paper in the narrow hall. Use a plain paper and also plain carpets without figures or a geometrical design in very small broken lines. Terra cotta is a good hall color; also a good grade of olive green can be used. A cream paper, toned to oak, is handsome in a new house, though a color scheme is usually needed. A light paper is preferable in a narrow, unlighted hall. Green paper fades very easily and red soon loses its original color.

How to Keep White Silk White.

There is nothing more distressing to the owner of a white silk or satin gown than to see it yellowing while it is still wearable. The women who do not cut their wedding dresses up the next winter, but keep them with reverent sentiment to the end of their lives, are always on the lookout for something to prevent them turning a deep tawny yellow. The best preventive of this is to pack the gown away in muslin sheets that have been rinsed through deep blue water until a deep indigo. Ordinary blue muslin can be substituted if preferred. Stuff all the folds with blue instead of white tissue paper, and keep in a box with a close fitting lid, that is also wrapped with heavy paper to keep out the dust.

The falling of Lucy.

By CLARISSA MACKIE.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Elwood craned his neck as the train drew in at the little station. Yes, here was the low, red brick structure, from either end of which the road wound away between the young oaks, now showing a faint misty brown in the late April sunshine.

With a sudden impulse he arose and grasped his hat and grip. In another instant he stood before the station house, while the train screamed away through the wooded tunnel of oaks.

He looked around at the familiar scene, slightly bewildered at the result of his impulsive action. He had left New York with the intention of spending the week end with friends at Shrimp Cove, but the familiar scene through which the train had sped and which marked milestones in his memory had roused within him depths of feeling that he thought could not now exist.

Evading the puzzled glance of the station agent, he turned down the right hand road. Ultimately it would take him to the village hotel. Incidentally it would lead him over old paths and permit his fancy to revel in banished dreams.

He plodded through the thick yellow sand with eager eyes on the budding hedges. Gratefully he inhaled the delicate spring odors that seemed to emanate from the golden afternoon sunshine.

He paused, once beside a foaming spring where sweetflag was shooting green blades from the black, oozy mud, and again in the Honeyspot road, where arbutus clung to the steep banks and the pink pouch of the moss-cushion flower sprang from the lichened tree stumps. Each time he removed his hat and stood with painfully knitted brow and reflective eyes. Then he moved on.

The village hotel was under new management, and he passed unchallenged by old acquaintances. He strolled down the irregular street after the evening meal was over and in the spring twilight revisited old haunts and revived old memories until his mind was a chaos of rage with himself and grief for the unattainable.

The next morning when clamorous bells rang out from the white painted churches and the quiet streets were gay with the Easter flurry of the village belles Elwood made his way to a quaint old edifice tucked away on the shore road, so that when he was seated in a familiar place he could see the white sails in the harbor and the thin drift of smoke from passing steamers on the sound.

The gathering congregation looked curiously at the dignified, middle aged stranger who sat in the old Elwood pew, but he maintained an attitude of motionless rigidity, with eyes fixed steadily on the rippling water beyond the window. He was listening with painful eagerness for a light step.

It came. He heard the swish of silk and the soft slip of her feet as she ascended the steps of the chancel and took her place among the assembled choir. In his eyes' mind he could see her, cool and pale, with flaxen hair and dark blue eyes.

There would be little change in her appearance after fifteen years. Her fair skin might have faded a little, and her slenderness might have become angularity, but there would be no other visible alteration. Still, he could not look.

Two women rustled into the seat behind him and conversed in hissing whispers that reached his ear with annoying distinctness.

"Lucy Clifford's got on her blue foulard silk, ain't she?"

"Yes! I wonder if she's going to sing today?"

"I suppose so. Mr. Larkin said it would be the last year she could sing in the choir."

"Her voice is getting terrible thin, and once in awhile it gives out. She ain't sung for two or three weeks now. I guess she was saying it so's she could sing today."

"Lucy's getting to be a regular old maid. Now that she's left alone down to the old place, I guess she wishes she'd taken up with young Elwood after all."

"I hope her voice don't fail today," remarked one of the women as the low tones of the organ rumbled through the church.

Elwood turned his head. Yes; there she sat, her pale, pure profile outlined against the red and purple of the chancel window.

She looked as his memory had limned her save that she was not angular; she still retained her youthful slenderness. There was a pathetic droop to her once proudly lifted head and a wistfulness in the full lidded eyes as she turned toward the congregation.

The organ ceased, the white robed minister entered and knelt in prayer, and then with a triumphant burst of music the choir arose and the notes of the anthem rang through the little church. Elwood pressed a hand across his stinging eyes as the familiar melody proceeded. It seemed but yesterday that he had stood beside Lucy Clifford in the choir and lifted his strong young voice in that same strain.

He heard the high notes of her thin soprano above the reedy tenor and the rumble of alto and bass, and there was an uncertain quality in it that caused his heart to beat a little faster in the fear that her voice might fail altogether. Anxiously he followed her through the anthem and sighed with relief when the final "Amen" died away in the rustle of the kneeling people.

The service proceeded as it had proceeded fifteen years ago. There was another minister and, save for Lucy Clifford, other voices in the choir. There were strangely familiar faces in the congregation, and his eyes eluded many a glance of recognition. It was enough for him that he could look upon Lucy Clifford's sweet face once again. In the morning he would go away.

When the long sermon was finished the organ commenced a well known prelude, two gray haired wardens seated up the aisle and robed in oaken contribution boxes, while the choir arose to sing the offertory.

"Christ the Lord is risen today. Alleluia!"

That was Lucy's voice rising high above the other singers, and again Elwood felt that tender apprehension lest she should fail. When the second stanza was begun her tones were strained and tremulous.

"She's going to break down!" whispered one of the women in the seat behind him.

"Lo, our sun's eclipse is o'er!"—It had happened. With a discordant wail like the breaking of a violin string Lucy Clifford's voice died out. The startled choir paused for an instant, and then from the congregation burst a man's strong voice, "Alleluia!"

To a triumphant conclusion he carried the fine old melody, his rich tenor supporting the wavering voices of the agitated choir. He had seen the white, frightened face of Lucy Clifford turned in his direction, and he threw all the vigor and force of his nature into the third stanza.

Almost unconsciously her tremulous voice took up the refrain, and once more their tones were united. It seemed as though her weak utterance rested on the assured strength of his, and he carried it up—to an exultant close until their voices blended in final joyous "Alleluia!"

Lucy Clifford sank back in her seat with trembling hands and a flickering color in her pale cheeks. She did not glance at Allen Elwood. It was sufficient for her that he was present and that in the hour of her distress he had come to her rescue.

It was like him to have done that. It was strange that she had permitted that escape of his youth to blind her to his many noble qualities. Well, it was too late now, but she could remember this day. It would be a pleasant memory to be stored away against a dreary future.

When the service was concluded, Lucy Clifford slipped through the side door into the churchyard and thence toward the opening in the stone wall that led to the homeward path across lots.

Elwood did not follow her. It would be of no use. He was too much of a black sheep. But when the dusk fell he walked slowly along the shore road until he came to the old Clifford place.

It was a long, low, brown house facing the harbor. Tall cherry trees overshadowed its gabled roof, and thick hedges of pungent box bordered the winding paths. A wind swept up from the bay, and a shower of blossoms fell about him. A whippoorwill thrabbled from the bough of an apple tree. It was like another night that was past.

There was a light step on the gravelled path, a startled exclamation, and he was holding Lucy's unresisting hands in his own.

"I have come to ask your forgiveness, Lucy," he began tenderly.

"Nay," she murmured tremulously; "it is I who should ask yours for my narrow minded prejudices. But that is past—I tried to steel my heart and failed—and the years have been so long, Allen!" Her voice broke.

"I know," he said slowly, "but the years that are to come will be long and sweet, God willing!"

The whippoorwill whirled away through the darkness, while again the cherry trees swayed in the breeze and sent a shower of bright whiteness over the lovers at the gate.

Philosophy of Good Clothes.

Besides the sentimental and aesthetic reasons that exist for dressing well it seems there is a scientific one, if we accept the statement of a London medical man that a good suit of clothes acts as a tonic on the mind of the wearer, while the consciousness that one is not at one's best in appearance if wearing shabby or ill fitting clothes may be reckoned as one of life's real handicaps. In the moral support that smart clothing furnishes he thinks there is a source of mental strength and activity that aids one to center one's thoughts on the things that lead to success in one's trade and profession. To be shockingly attired and to be constantly conscious of the condition leads the mind into worrying ways that dissipate healthy energy.—Boston Transcript.

A Different Brand.

An eminent medical gentleman engaged a nurse, recently graduated, for a case of delirium tremens. The physician succeeded in quieting the patient and left some medicine, instructing the nurse to administer it to him if he "began to see snakes again." At the next call the physician found the patient again raving. To his puzzled inquiry the nurse replied that the man had been going on that way for several hours and that she had not given him any medicine.

"But didn't I tell you to give it to him if he began to see snakes again?" demanded the physician.

"But he didn't see snakes this time," replied the nurse confidently. "He saw red, white and blue turkeys with straw hats on."—Lippincott's Magazine.

DON'T GIGGLE, GIRLS.

Nothing More Infectious and Charming Than a Good Laugh.

If half the girls knew how silly they looked and sounded when they constantly giggled they would stop it.

Learn to smile, not giggle. Nothing is more infectious and charming than a good laugh, but very few people know how to laugh. It is as rare in life as it is on the stage.

A giggle usually comes from nervousness. A girl will giggle when she cannot think of anything to say or when she is trying to be at ease in company.

She will giggle when a boy meets her and says "Good morning." She will giggle when he says "Goodby." She is only nervous, but she appears silly.

It is no wonder that young men speak with utter scorn of the giggling girl. They seem to think her the least attractive maiden on earth. It is trying to attempt to hold any kind of conversation with a girl who will punctuate her every remark with giggles.

It is not always possible to know at first thought whether or not you are one of the girls who giggle. Stop and think about it. Watch yourself the next time you are with any one. See whether this senseless trick is a part of your social equipment. If it is, take any heroic means to strangle that giggle until it is dead.

Far better be silent. You may then get the credit for wisdom that you have not got. Better than all, if you don't know how to give a cheery, musical, spontaneous laugh, then try your best to learn how to smile.

Do not let yourself give a weary smile, for that is the result of effort and self consciousness, but anything is better than a silly giggle.

TO TEST MATERIALS.

Distinguishing Pure Linen From Counterfeit Is Easy.

Of the goods sold as "all wool" there is not one-tenth that is genuine. Generally the main component is cotton.

The test for this is simple. All that is necessary is to pull out a few threads and apply a lighted match. Cotton will go off in a blaze; wool will shrivel up.

To distinguish pure linen from counterfeit is even easier. The intended buyer need but wet her finger and apply it to the goods. If they are pure linen, the moisture will pass straight through; the spot touched will be soaked at once, and almost immediately one side will be as wet as the other.

Frauds are more numerous in silk than in any other fabric, but here also the material of adulteration is cotton. Its presence can readily be discovered. Draw a few threads out. The pieces of cotton will snap off short when pulled, while the silk will stretch and permit a considerable pull before breaking.

The boasted silk of our grandmothers that "stood by itself" is not necessarily the best. Modern ingenuity has devised means of giving the poorest article the body requisite for this purpose.

Shellac and other sticky substances mixed through the fabric will produce as stiff a silk as ever graced the wardrobe of our ancestors. Such stuff is quite worthless, however, as it quickly rots.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

When a finger has been pinched, if it is at once immersed in boiling water the inflammation will be quickly allayed.

When a child is restless from teething it can often be quieted by giving it a warm bath. The water should be as hot as can be endured without burning. Do not allow the child to stay in the bath long or weakness will follow.

Tears have their use, apart from the crying aspect, inasmuch as they refresh and wash the eyes of animals and birds that live exposed to the dust. The eye requires to be kept clear and clean, and tears perform this duty. A striking example of this is shown when the eye is hurt. It at once commences to water, and often this natural method of cleansing relieves the pain and removes the cause of the discomfort.

The Toilet Table.

It is impossible to dress to look one's best unless the toilet table has a brilliant light above it.

It is mortifying to pass from a dim bedroom to a well lighted theater or a friend's house and to discover small wisps of straying hair and errors about one's attire which entirely escaped attention in the semidarkness at home.

A clever woman has her bedroom most cunningly lighted so that by means of another mirror opposite that on her dressing table she can see her self in every position.

This is one reason why she is rarely seen with "fawnings" between bodice and skirt, glimpses at petticoats through pocket and the back of collar badly adjusted.

Summer Candle Shades.

Nothing is daintier for the dining table, especially in the summer, if artificial light be needed, than the candle. It is a simple matter to make pretty shades at a small cost.

Buy the wire frames and make close fitting covers of linen colored pongee, stenciling on the four sides conventional designs.

Another pretty affair is a shade of white linen, also fitted to the wire frame and finished at the bottom with a fringe of narrow valenciennes lace. To make the linen shades more elaborate a little hand embroidery may be added. Shades made along these general lines have the added value of being easily laundered.

The Danger in Dust

Modern science has revealed the fact that myriads of germs of disease caught from the breath of infected people and animals and from filth of all kinds are carried with circulating dust. Dust is dangerously pregnant with disease. The only safe way to purchase coffee is to buy Climax in sealed dust-proof packages.

BRYAN

Speaks to Millions
Edison Phonograph

YOU can now hear William Jennings Bryan speak at your convenience and in your own home. He has recorded on Edison Records the most telling passages from ten of his favorite speeches. These Records are remarkably successful, faithfully reproducing not only Mr. Bryan's voice, but every mannerism and inflection.

Recognizing the wonderful achievement of the Edison Phonograph, Mr. Bryan consented to make these Records, presenting his views on leading questions, and at the same time availing himself of the splendid opportunity to give his views the widest currency.

This is the first opportunity the American people have had to hear Phonograph Records made by a statesman of national importance.

The ten Bryan Records are as follows:

Swollen Fortunes	The Trust Question
The Railroad Question	Popular Election of Senators
The Tariff Question	Guaranty of Bank Deposits
Imperialism	An Ideal Republic
The Labor Question	Immortality

These Records may be heard at all Edison dealers. 35 cents each.

WEDDING

some credit for today's notable union for it was while her guest at Biarritz that Miss Reid met her husband.

The presents were the finest ever seen in England outside of a royal marriage. The gift of the king was a bracelet thickly studded with diamonds and with Alexandrian cutseye of the most vivid sea green hue, the crowning gem. The gift is considered unusual, as the gem is thought by many to be an omen of ill luck.

The prince and princess of Wales gave two old fine silver dishes, dating back to the 16th century. The present of the bride's parents was a diamond collar and, diara. The Ward family gave a unique collection of old English silver collected during the last three centuries.

After the wedding a reception was held at Dorchester house, to which all of the fashionable London and many Americans who could not be accommodated at the chapel were invited. Shortly after the service Mr. and Mrs. Ward started on their honeymoon. They will be away until the end of September, and on their return will make their home in Lord Dudley's house in Carlton Gardens. This is one of the finest houses in London and the Wards will occupy it during Lord Dudley's stay in Australia.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM

Most Treatments Are Unsatisfactory but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Have Cured So Many Stubborn Cases That They Command a Trial.

It is unnecessary to tell the sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism that the ordinary treatments for this disease are unsatisfactory.

Physicians are not of one mind on the subject but the highest authorities hold that rheumatism is a disease of the blood. All admit that in attacks of rheumatism there is a marked and rapid thinning of the blood. This is a condition that a treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once arrests and corrects. The thin blood is enriched, the strengthened organs of the body throw off the poisonous impurities and the patient gets well.

Mr. John F. Crichton, a retired grocer, of 1237 Fulton street, Chicago, Ill., and a veteran of the Civil war in which he served as a member of Co. A, 14th Illinois Infantry, bears witness to this truth. He says:

"I was afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism for twenty years and had received only temporary relief from the doctors. About three years ago I was helpless in bed with it. I could not use either hand or foot for over two months and suffered intense pain. My limbs were swollen and I could not move at all without great pain. I had sleepless nights and thought I would never be able to get on and again. My friends and comrades thought I was going to die."

"I had paid out a lot of money in doctors' bills, but was not cured. One day an old war comrade urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as he knew of cases they had cured. Before I had taken them a great while, I was feeling much better. I improved rapidly and was able to get out of bed and move around. I am now in perfect health and have not had a touch of rheumatism in any part of my body since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

AT AUDITORIUM.

At the Auditorium theatre last evening a large audience was pleased with the entertainment provided by Manager Graham. Some of the best films ever seen in Newark were shown and there was something to suit everyone, with lots of comedy. Mr. Ben Hoover sang two very pretty songs and Mr. M. J. in a rapid fire black face act told some good stories which kept the audience in a good humor. Tonight Manager Graham stands treat. Every lady attending the performance will be given a check good at the Parity for a dish of ice cream absolutely free. This should be very welcome on a warm night.

To get a storm effect on the stage it is necessary to work like thunder.

AS TO BRYAN, IT IS ALL OVER BUT THE SHOUTING

Three more states have joined the Bryan column during the past two days—Colorado, Tennessee and Mississippi. So far as President is concerned it is all over but the shouting at Denver; and the action of Colorado shows that the shouting of the spectators will add volume to the shouting of the delegates—all for Bryan, the man who is the presidential choice of a large majority of the Democrats, and a large minority of the Republicans in every state in the Union.

W. G. CONRAD
Being Urged for Second Place on the Democratic Presidential Ticket.

W. G. Conrad, formerly of Virginia now of Helena, Mont., is being strongly supported for the Democratic vice presidency.
Mr. Conrad comes of the purest American stock, for he is the scion of Colonial families of Virginia, the Old Dominion. On August 3, 1848, he was born in Warren county, Va. His father, Colonel James W. Conrad, married Miss Maria Ashby, who was a member of the historic Ashby family, whose destinies intertwine with the history of Virginia from its earliest Colonial period. Indeed, from her ancestor, John Ashby, loyal subject of Charles I. and one of the first Englishmen to land on Virginia soil. John Ashby, great grandfather of the subject of this sketch, was with Washington under Braddock, at Fort Duquesne, and his great grand grandfather, Benjamin Ashby, was one of Washington's confidential officers in the Revolutionary struggle.

Colonel James W. and Maria S. Conrad owned a large Virginia plantation, and besides being a colonel in the state militia, the father was long a prominent judge. They removed to Montana in 1874, and there the old colonel's life came to a peaceful end at Great Falls, in 1894, at the age of 52 years.
W. G. Conrad was reared on the plantation, attending the district school and supplementing this education by a course at the famous Washington academy. He was a good scholar, and his favorite studies were mathematics and geography. He became interested in the Far West, then an unbroken, almost wild country, but with boundless possibilities for youth. Virginia in the late sixties, was in the throes of reconstruction, and so the two Conrad brothers, W. G. and his younger brother, Charles E. Conrad, in 1868, set out for Montana, there to carve out their lives' destinies. They were well endowed with ambition, industry, vitality and character, but were without means.
Fort Benton, Mont., was reached after a three months' journey of 4000 miles. Then began Mr. Conrad's marvellously successful business career in the west. It began in an humble, simple fashion as clerk for I. G. Baker & Co., merchants of the little town. But the boy was industrious, and in four years had become a partner in the firm, and at the end of four more years was its sole proprietor by purchase.

The firm had grown to have an immense business, probably the largest mercantile enterprise in the entire northwest, and one of the most extensive conducted by private capital at that time in the world. With his brother Mr. Conrad conducted this vast business until 1888, when he sold it to the Hudson Bay company, including their freighting business also.

In the meantime Mr. Conrad had become interested in cattle and sheep raising, an industry that he has pursued since. He owns many stock farms and ranches and is one of the most successful cattle kings of the west.
The Conrads have three beautiful homes—one in the picturesque Shenandoah Valley, of Virginia, a charming home at Great Falls, Mont., and the finest residence in the state at Helena, Mont., where his numerous friends are royally entertained.

Of masterful personality, Mr. Conrad is a forceful man, a man of magnetic presence and genial, kindly disposition. He is a fraternity man and holds high office in the Masonic order. In church, in social and in business circles alike Mr. Conrad is regarded as a leader of men, one who thoroughly deserves the praises showered upon him.

All the southern states, and especially Virginia, are flocking to Mr. Conrad's support, because he is a southern man born and lived, and the southern delegates feel that, as they have so long supplied the votes, they should name the candidate from amongst the native 'sons of the south, and Mr. Conrad fills the bill at the same time, having such large interests in Montana will help to carry many doubtful western states. Then, too, Virginia has cause to be doubly proud, for Hon. William Jennings Bryan, the undoubted leader of Democracy, and who, it is conceded, will be the nominee of the party at Denver, is a grandson of Virginia, and with W. G. Conrad a native of Virginia for a running mate, the Old Dominion will again loom to the front in all her pristine glory as the Mother of Presidents.

A LETTER OF INTEREST

The Chalybeate Spring Water Co.
16 1-2 North Park Place, Newark, Ohio.

Dear Sirs—We have examined your sample of spring water sent me, making test for chlorine, organic matter, nitrates, nitrites, etc., or any evidence of contamination. Results are most satisfactory. It is the purest natural mineral water we have ever examined. It is entirely free from organic matter, or any other evidence of contamination. Those who can obtain their supply from such a water as this are certainly to be congratulated. We judge this is the extent of the examination you wished, considering that we made a full mineral analysis some months ago.

We congratulate you on the fine proposition which you have in this water, and shall be pleased to serve you at any time.

Yours very truly,

RECORD
FOR CONTINUOUS SERVICE IS HELD BY ENGINEER ON THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.
Population of Fruitland Endeavoring to Locate Tin Can Containing $15,000 in Gold.

Spokane, Wash., June 23—Engine No. 384, on the North Coast Limited train, operated by the Northern Pacific Railway and driven by John A. Miller and M. Clement, engineers, of Spokane, scored a notable record by being in continuous service 166 hours and 25 minutes during the recent floods in Montana, when it pulled a train of nine coaches over six lines, a distance of 2,107 miles between Spokane and Fargo, N. D., and thence to Billings, Mont. The 175 marooned passengers were cared for by Conductors Harry C. Peck and H. P. Litchfield, of Spokane, who were assisted by E. C. Bradley and M. O. Lee, brakemen. The passengers presented a purse of $100 to the crews. Part of the train left the track because of spreading rails. In more than one instance the passengers believed they were being carried into the raging torrents as the sides of the coaches scraped the hanging banks in cuts but no mishaps followed. The alkali water ruined the boiler of the locomotive, which has been consigned to the round house for general overhauling, and will be put into service in a couple of weeks.

Half the population of Fruitland, a small settlement near Spokane, is busy with picks and spades in an endeavor to locate a tin can filled with gold, which was buried on his 160 acre farm by Hermon Kahlen, 76 years of age, who lived as a recluse more than 20 years and was known in the district as "the wild man." Kahlen died a few days ago in a tumble down log shack, where his bed was a packing box half filled with straw. Before his death the old man deeded his ranch to M. C. Pelsier of Fruitland, and divided $1,400 with Miss Jensen of Cheney, and Werner, Hans and George Neuman and Byron and Dell Richards of Fruitland, bequeathing also $100 to a home for the poor in Germany. He also told of $15,000 in gold hidden on the farm, but died before he could disclose its whereabouts. Kahlen came to the Northwest in 1888 and located near Oregon City, where he engaged in sheep raising, and at the end of five years he owned 5,000 animals, which he sold at $3 a head in addition to the receipts for the wool clip. He then started for Stevens county, in eastern Washington, with two black and white heifers, which he drove 100 miles. After locating a homestead he built a shack and fenced the ground with 18 foot lodge poles, the work occupying five years. As Kahlen aged he became hopelessly neglectful of his person. He never combed his hair or beard, and they became matted, standing out from his head like quills. He has no relatives in this country, but there is a nephew in Germany.

Frederick E. Goodall, president of the Spokane chamber of commerce, has received a letter from Victor H. Metcalf, secretary of the navy, declaring the Tennessee the winner of the Spokane naval trophy, valued at $1,500. The letter follows:
"The navy department begs to inform you that the silver trophy presented by the chamber of commerce of the city of Spokane, Wash., to the ship attaining the highest final merit with turret guns alone has been won by the U. S. S. Tennessee."

"The commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, to which the Tennessee is attached, has been informed of this fact and has been requested to communicate with you for the purpose of making the necessary arrangements as to the time and place for the receipt and unveiling of the trophy."

"To this end the department requests that you will kindly inform him as to when the trophy will be completed and ready for delivery."

INDIANA WILL GO FOR BRYAN

Milwaukee, June 23.—Mayor Rose returned yesterday from the Indianapolis Saengerfest with the declaration that the next election will see Indiana Democratic as a result of Governor Hanly's attacks on the liquor leaders. The Germans in that state, according to Mayor Rose, are so strongly aroused that they will give Bryan enough votes to overturn the normal Republican plurality in the state. Mayor Rose is confident that Bryan will be elected.

BOSTON AERONAUTS CHASED BY A BULL

CHARLES J. GLIDDEN.

Pittsfield, Mass., June 23.—The balloon Boston, which made its initial ascent here, landed safely on a mountain between Putney, Vt., and Dummerston, Vt., near the Vermont-New Hampshire boundary line.

Charles J. Glidden of Boston, the owner of the balloon, and Leo Stevens, the New York aeronaut, who was a passenger, had a very exciting trip.

In addition to being the target for rifle bullets during the flight, Mr. Glidden and Mr. Stevens landed in a pasture where a young bull was confined. The animal charged the aeronauts after they had stepped from the basket and they were forced to run at top speed and hurried scramble over a barbed wire fence.

Although a landing was made at about 7 o'clock at sight, Messrs. Glidden and Stevens feared they would be obliged to pass the night in the woods. They kept on walking, however, until just before midnight they reached a farm house, five miles from the place the landing was made, where they spent the remainder of the night.

While passing over the northeast corner of Brattleboro, Vt., the gas bag was struck by two rifle bullets. The bullets glanced off, however, without penetrating the silk covering.

Thanking his lucky stars that a printer occasionally submits to the call of the wild and indulges in nataratorial sports.

Friends of Mr. Butler are considering the advisability of applying for the Carnegie medal for life saving, but Mr. Butler's well known modesty may deter them from taking such steps.

HON. W. A. ASHBROOK

Assists in Securing Appointment of Mr. Chas. T. LaSarre as Vice Consul to Portugal.

Mr. Charles F. LaSarre, a well known citizen of Baltimore, Md., where he has resided for the past five years, has been accredited United States vice consul to the Kingdom of Portugal. Mr. LaSarre is a bright and talented young man and is well known in historical and literary circles. He is a life member of the Northwest Genealogical Historical Society of Columbus, and of the Maryland Historical society. He is very well known in Coshocton, where his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Davis, resides, and where he has visited a good deal. He is also quite well known in Licking county. Our efficient and capable congressman, Hon. W. A. Ashbrook, contributed largely to the advancement of Mr. LaSarre to this important post, which fact Mr. LaSarre's friends highly appreciate.

BODY

Of James O'Neil Taken to Pittsburg by Brothers Tuesday Morning For Interment.

The body of James O'Neil, the unfortunate flint glass worker who fell under the wheels of a train between this city and Utica, and sustained injuries from which he died at the Sanitarium several hours after the accident, was taken to Pittsburg Tuesday morning.

There is a pathetic side in connection with the death of Mr. O'Neil. Shortly before he died he called one of the attendants at the Sanitarium to his side and gave the address of his brother, Michael O'Neil, who lives in Pittsburg, and asked that he be notified, and shortly after breathed his last. Mr. George Hamilton then saw Mayor Atherton and a telegram, signed by Mr. Atherton, was sent to George O'Mara, chief of detectives of Pittsburg, requesting him to notify Michael O'Neil, his brother, of his death. Chief O'Mara immediately on receipt of the telegram notified the mayor of the city, who at once started out one hundred men to scour the city and country for O'Neil, who, it was learned, had been up in the mountains for some time. Shortly after the search had been instituted O'Neil chanced to come to the city, and had not been on the streets five minutes before one of the searchers tapped him on the shoulder and notified him of the death of his brother, who communicated the sad news to his brother John, who had just returned from the Chicago convention.

Mr. Michael O'Neil and his friend, Mr. French, arrived here Tuesday morning about 1 o'clock and the body, which had been taken charge of by the local Green Glass Workers, was taken back to Pittsburg Tuesday morning. Mass was said at the St. Francis de Sales church Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock by the Rev. Fr. Plunkett.

TESTED AND PROVEN. There is a Heap of Solace in Being Able to Depend Upon a Well-Earned Reputation.

For months Newark readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. Not another remedy every produced such convincing proof of merit.

M. B. Melick, 61 W. Church St., Newark, Ohio, says: "I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as I used them for kidney trouble and obtained great benefit. I had a constant dull aching across the small of my back which would change to sharp twinges whenever I stopped or overexerted myself in any way. I also had pains in my hips, sometimes so severe that I was forced to take to my bed. I tried liniments and used numerous remedies but obtained no relief until Doan's Kidney Pills were finally recommended to me and I procured a box at Crayton's drug store. After a short use I found them to be just the remedy my system required as they banished my troubles and I have had no return of them since." (From statement given November 5, 1904.)

CONFIRMATION PROOF.

On Nov. 26, 1907, Mr. Melick said: "I gladly confirm everything I said in my former testimonial for Doan's Kidney Pills, as I have not suffered from backache or rheumatism since they cured me. I am convinced that Doan's Kidney Pills deserve all the praise given them."

Costly errors, poor base running, and the absolutely bad work of Umpire Frank Kramer all combined to defeat Newark yesterday and give the Lanks their second straight victory from the Molders. Then, too, Eells, who has been a very sick man for the past few days, failed to pitch the game, but before he pulled himself from the box he had given seven bases on balls. None of them would have been especially costly, however, if the team hadn't pined up errors behind him.

Kramer, who is absolutely incompetent as an umpire, worked again yesterday and his effort proved a terrible failure. He was off on balls and strikes, and his base decisions were very punk.

No one thinks he is dishonest, but that he is incompetent is an assured fact. At no time is he master of the field, and the worst insults directed against him pass unnoticed. Catcher Piper of the Lancaster team, gave him a terrible scoring after the one inning yesterday when he was called out and Kramer made no move to shut him up or eject him from the field.

At another time he stood near second base to watch a runner that was on first. At the same time a runner was on third, but now he expected to umpire balls and strikes from that distance is hard to tell. Manager Fox and Manager Eells both "called him" and he then came up to the pitcher's box to see the work.

Yesterday was ladies' day and the grand stand was very well filled with the members of the fair sex. The game was a comedy of errors, but at the same time some sensational plays were pulled off that brightened the drab spots left by the errors.

The Lanks pushed their first run across in the first inning when Brown was walked. Eichelberger was out on buntstrikes. Then Brown stole second. Heller hit one that dropped near Williams and in throwing to his base he went all away, and while Heller went to second Brown came home. An error of Murray put the Lanks in the lead.

Two base hits, Gygli, Williams. Home run, Wratten.

Struck out, by Eells 1, by Moore 3, by Mock 6.

Bases on balls, off Eells 7, off Moore 2, off Mock 5.

Double play, Carter to Piper. Passed ball, Williams.

Stolen bases, Snyder, Brown, Piper. Sacrifice hits, Abbott, Winters, Eichelberger.

Umpire, Kramer.

Time, 1:15.

Portsmouth 6, Lima 4.

Portsmouth, June 23.—Lima failed to hit when hits meant runs, and this coupled with Kahl's ejection from the game in the fourth, was responsible for their defeat. Burt's running catch and throw to third were the features. Score: Portsmouth 2 0 2 1 1 0 0 * 6. Lima 1 0 0 0 1 0 2 0 0 4.

Batteries, Mercer and Zimpher; Garvey and Neffan.

Runs, Totman, Burt 2, Bohannon, Spencer, Zimpher; Fink 2, A. Reilly, Garvey. Two base hit, Fink. Three base hit, Totman. Double plays, Burt to Doois, Bohannon to Spencer. Sacrifice hits, Bohannon, Moeller, Burt, Fink, A. Reilly. Hit by pitched balls, Dooin, Miller. First base on balls, off Garvey 1, off Mercer 6. Struck out, by Garvey 2, by Mercer 3. Time, 1:50. Umpire, Hart.

Marion 1, Mansfield 0.

Marion, June 23.—Sauford Burke had the better of Lloyd in a pretty battle yesterday, Marion winning 1 to 0. Burke's single scored Wilson in the seventh inning. Score: Marion 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 * 1. Mansfield 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0.

Batteries, Burke and Luskey; Lloyd and Breyermaier.

Run, Wilson. Sacrifice hit, Larue. First base on balls, off Burke 2, off Lloyd 2. Struck out, by Burke 7, by Lloyd 2. Double play, Flood to Kettler to Biery. Left on bases, Marion 7, Mansfield 6. Time, 1:30. Umpire, Handboc. Attendance, 400.

PARIS FASHIONS.

Toilettes Seen at Auteuil Race Track. The Auteuil race course, the scene of the most brilliant triumphs of the Paris milliner, was this year the scene of a more notable display of gaudy and artistic creations than even that classic spectacle has ever before witnessed. The usual brilliancy of what is recognized as the great work of the Paris season was of surpassing brilliancy by the remarkable costumes of the season, which adorned their fair owners in the parade of beauty and grace. Dainty gowns, which lately have caused a sensation in the gay city, and other caprices, were everywhere to be seen, and society women played their trump cards in the matter of costume.

The spectacle at the races, as shown in the above illustrations and afterward on the polo ground at Bagatelle, was unique in the social world. Light colored dresses were the rule.

New Directors Elected for Newark Ball Company at Meeting Held Monday Night.

At a meeting of the directors of the Newark Baseball company held Monday evening in the office of Business Manager Maurath, it was voted to increase the board of directors from five to fifteen men. The vote carried with no opposition and the following well known progressive citizens of Newark were elected: John J. Carroll, Frank P. Kennedy, A. H. Heisey, Wm. L. Prout, William C. Miller, W. W. Wehrle, John H. Swisher, George H. Fromholtz.

With the following men as directors, A. A. Stassel, Eugene Koos, Frank J. Maurath, Harry Roedel and T. V. Rutledge, it will mean that practically a new organization will be effected, and that base ball in Newark is bound to be an established institution. The money that was recently raised has put the club on its feet and at the present time everything seems to be in shipshape order.

Everything possible will be done to increase the strength of the team and its a safe proposition that before the season is much older Newark will be up among the leaders. A special meeting of the directors and stockholders will be held in the council chamber Friday night at 7:30 o'clock, and all the stockholders are urged to be present.

GROUNDBERS.

Monday was ladies' day and several hundred of them were present to see the game.

In spite of the fact that there have been many heavy rains lately the grounds were in excellent shape, the heat having dried them out.

Sporting Editor Turtle of the Columbus Citizen saw the game yesterday.

In the first inning Catcher Piper was slightly injured by "catching" a foul tip on his throat. He gamely continued playing.

Lefty Snyder made an excellent fielding record for himself yesterday. In the second he made a great running catch and in the third he made the longest run ever made on the home grounds after a foul fly. Both times the crowd compelled him to take his hat off.

Not to be outdone by the excellent work of Snyder and Abbott, Gygli made a beautiful run back in the fourth and pulled down Mock's fly. His quick throw to the home plate kept a runner on third.

Lancaster is here again today and tomorrow the Mansfield Tigers come for three games. The team then goes to Lancaster, Mansfield and Portsmouth. The team then returns home for a series of 12 games.

He Got What He Needed.

NATIONAL GUARD

BETTER EQUIPPED WITH RIFLES THAN U. S. NAVY AND MARINE CORPS.

State of Ohio Making Elaborate Preparations to Entertain National Guard at Camp Perry.

Washington, June 23.—It is an interesting fact that the National Guard of the various states and territories are equipped with better rifles than the United States Navy and Marine Corps. The former, like the army, has been with the Model 1903, popularly known as the New Springfield, while the navy continues to use the Krag. This is not, however, the fault of the naval authorities who would be only too pleased to change to the new rifle but alas, there is no money available. It would cost about $1,000,000 to equip the navy and marine corps with New Springfields and as Congress did not appropriate the money and no other fund is available these branches of the service will continue using the Krags. The teams from the navy, marine corps and naval academy which will shoot in the national matches at Camp Perry, however, will use the new rifles the department having purchased a hundred of them from the war department, to be used in the trials now in progress and in the matches. There is a warm but generous rivalry between the army and navy over these matches and extensive preparations are being made by both services to win the National Trophy. The army brought from the Philippines a dozen of the best experts stationed there to compete for places on the infantry and cavalry teams, while the navy has detached from the fleet now in Pacific waters the following: Ensigns Dorchel, Doherty, Wilcox and White, and Midshipmen Osborn, Lewis, Woodward and Amsden. They will proceed to Annapolis where the contests for places on the naval and naval academy teams will be held. Early next month both teams will go to Camp Perry, Ohio, while they will practice constantly until the matches. The army teams will be trained at Fort Sheridan and Fort Ethan Allen, and then proceed to Camp Perry. Last year the navy team won the trophy and a midshipman won the national individual rifle and the national pistol matches. The army proposes to carry off the honors if possible, while the navy intends to hold them.

It is not likely the naval militia will be equipped with the new army rifles for some time to come. Occupying a somewhat anomalous position they cannot be equipped from the regular fund available to the land forces and the total appropriation for the naval militia is only $100,000 which must be divided among nineteen organizations according to their strength. Should the commanders desire it, however, it is understood a portion of the quota for their commands may be used for this purpose.

The State of Ohio is making elaborate preparations to entertain the crack military shots of the United States at the National matches in August, the more so as it will probably be some years before the matches are again held on that range. There will be almost a thousand team members and substitutes in attendance on the National Team Match alone, representing almost every state and territory, and all branches of the regular services together with a team from the army in Cuba. There will probably be eight hundred entries in the National Pistol Match. In addition there will be hundreds of marksmen who are ineligible for these matches but who will contest in the matches of the National Rifle Association and the Ohio State Rifle Association, shot during the preceding two weeks. Approximately one hundred army officers will be detailed to supervise the National matches, together with a regiment of regulars to act as markers and scorers. The state has purchased 66 acres of additional ground to the west of the range which will admit of firing at all ranges from a common firing point. The new 1,000-yard butt will be 800 feet long, of re-inforced concrete and equipped with telephone connections, buzzers, etc. Just north of the railroad terminals a new mess-hall is being constructed. It will be 76 by 172 feet, two stories in height with an extension for the kitchen. The upper story will provide a large drill hall without pillars. This building will also be of re-inforced concrete. On the lower floor 1,000 men can be messed at one time.

For the National matches Congress made a special appropriation of $12,000 to provide for the messing of the competitors, which mess will be conducted by the army. Another important improvement is the construction of a stand-pipe with a capacity of 75,000 gallons of water, all water used at the camp being carefully filtered. An intercepting storm-water sewer is being constructed to drain the camp. It will empty into a large basin and the water will be pumped into the lake, which insures a perfectly dry camp. All roads are being macadamized and parked and cinder foot-paths are being constructed to all parts of the range. These improvements will cost the state about $25,000 in addition to the cost of the additional ground. In July the 2d Infantry will be at Camp Perry for qualification of its men and it will probably be designated to remain during the matches in August.

Considerable saving in ammunition to the states will be effected by a recent decision of Assistant Secretary of War Oliver, who has held that where an officer or enlisted man of the national guard qualifies as an expert rifleman or as a sharpshooter, he enters the next season's practice with the qualification of the grade next below, so that under Special Course C the expert of last year will have to qualify only in this class, and the sharpshooters only as sharpshooters and then experts, instead of having to qualify in all three classes as marksmen, sharpshooters and expert.

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women or received so many genuine testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every one you meet has either been benefited by it, or has friends who have.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., any woman any day may see the files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, and here are the letters in which they openly state over their own signatures that they were cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, without drugs, and is wholesome and harmless.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the feminine organism, restoring it to a healthy normal condition.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

No bid will be considered unless accompanied by a check or cash, and all bids must be accompanied by certified check on some reputable bank, made payable to the City of Newark, Ohio, in the sum of 10 per cent of the amount of bonds bid for as a guarantee that if said bid is accepted said bond shall be paid for within ten days from the time of the award of the contract to the City of Newark, Ohio, if said payment is not made.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

FRANK T. MAURATI, City Auditor.

WILL YOUR ESTATE BE A BUNCH OF RENT RECEIPTS?

Is it not business to invest your earnings and keep them invested? Experience has proven that fortunes invested in real estate have remained intact through more generations than when invested in any other form of property.

For the head of the family the title to his home means the saving of rents and the possession of an asset constantly increasing in value. Values in real estate have been created by the growth of population. These are factors which tend to increase the demand for, and decrease the supply of real estate.

We are now building modern houses and will offer lots for sale with or without houses, in my new addition, corner of Church and Eighth streets. Streets will be improved by paving, cement walks, gas and water to property lines, no special taxes, all improvements are paid. When all improvements are made these houses and lots will soon sell and you will have lost another opportunity to better your condition.

Can you afford to let this opportunity pass?

RESOLUTION NO. 1915.

Declaring it necessary to improve Hudson avenue, from Charles street to Stevens street, by constructing a tile sanitary sewer therein.

Be it resolved by the Council of the City of Newark, State of Ohio, three-fourths of all the members elected thereto concurring:

Section 1. That it is necessary to improve Hudson avenue, from Charles street to Stevens street, by constructing a tile sanitary sewer therein, in accordance with the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of the proposed improvement prepared by the civil engineer, now on file in the office of the Board of Public Service, which are hereby approved and which shall be open to the inspection of all persons interested.

Sec. 2. That the materials used in the construction of said improvement shall be of vitrified clay, or shale sewer pipe, with catch-basins and man-holes and proper catch covers.

Sec. 3. That the whole cost of said improvement, less one-fifth thereof, and the cost of intersections shall be assessed for the first three years of the term of the bonds to be issued for the improvement, and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of printing and publishing notices, resolutions and ordinances required and the serving of said notices the cost of construction together with the interest on bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments and all other necessary expenses.

Sec. 4. That the assessments so to be levied shall be paid in 30 semi-annual installments with the interest on deferred payments at 5 per cent per annum, provided that the owner of the property assessed, may at his option, pay such assessments within thirty days from and after the passage of the assessing ordinance, to the city treasurer, in which case said cash assessments shall not include any interest or expense of any kind, and in anticipation of the deferred installments of assessments.

Sec. 5. That bonds of the City of Newark, Ohio, shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments by installments, and in the amount equal thereto.

Sec. 6. That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement not so assessed, including cost of intersections, and the damage awarded any owner of adjoining lands and intersections thereof, and the expense of any such award shall be paid by the issuance of bonds in the manner provided by law.

Sec. 7. This resolution shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and legal publication.

GRANVILLE

Granville, June 23.—The funeral of Mr. Hugh Evans, a former resident of this place, but for many years a prominent farmer, living near Columbus, was held Monday afternoon. Mr. Evans died Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. His daughter, who is the wife of the Rev. Carl Doney, formerly pastor of the Methodist church at this place, arrived shortly before his death. The body was brought to Granville and the services were held Monday afternoon. The interment being made in Maple Grove cemetery. The deceased was aged 74 years and for many years during the earlier part of his life had lived in Granville, but had been a resident of Franklin county for over thirty years. His wife died some years ago and since that time his daughter, Miss May, has been keeping house for him.

Mr. B. I. Jones is beautifying his residence on West Broadway by the addition of a handsome concrete porch. It will add greatly to the appearance of the house when completed.

Miss Grace Henry, a charming young woman of Springfield, who has been visiting relatives and friends here for the past two or three days, has returned home.

Monday night two pretty Newark girls boarded the Granville car with their grips and were pushing their way through the smoker into the main compartment of the car, when they were suddenly halted—their "Merry Widow" had allowing them to proceed no further than the door. They tried to get through sideways and every other way, but to no purpose. It was finally suggested that they take off their hats, which they did, and then they had plain sailing.

The Granville Old Fellows and Daughters of Rebekah will hold union memorial services at the Episcopal church Sunday afternoon. The memorial sermon will be preached by the Rev. Mr. Ramsey.

Miss Ella Denman of Hamilton, O., who has been visiting here for some days, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams of Cleveland, after a short visit with friends in the village have gone to Columbus, where they will make a short visit before returning home.

"It takes a lot of nerve to succeed," remarked the Wise Guy. "Yes, but it takes a lot more to explain successfully why you didn't," added the Simple Mug.

CONSTIPATION

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 48 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you I am free from all this suffering. You can use this in behalf of suffering humanity."
